

A digital depth gauge is shown measuring a metal component. The gauge has a black frame and a red sliding beam. The digital display shows the measurement. The metal part being measured has a circular feature at the top and a slot on the left. The gauge is positioned against the bottom surface of the part.

12.58MM

